U.K. Police v L.M.R.A. At Bisley (2003)

The annual UK Police Fullbore Target Rifle Club v London & Middlesex Rifle Association event took place at Bisley over the weekend of the 29/30th March 2003.

This event was coupled with Roger and Lynn Hanley celebrating their departure from the LMRA after 18 years, to a warmer climate in Spain. I do believe that the weather for the weekend was arranged just to show us what it can be like over there. The weather was the best I have ever seen for this shoot, the sun shone and it was warm for a change.....

Needless to say the UK Police team got stuffed, although on the Saturday it was only on the 'vee' bulls, which for the team was excellent, despite the slip up on the transposition of the scores from Lawrence's computer on to the old fashioned score card.

There was a reasonable attendance by our members, and there was an excellent atmosphere. The UKPFBTRC would like to wish Roger and Lynn a happy and fruitful life after the 'L+M' and have to extend a huge thanks to them for their input in to this weekend, and all those weekends which have long been forgotten. We are now looking forward to the next years chance to try and beat the very fine LMRA team.
